Law Review Publishes Semi-Centennial Issue In Honor of I. C. C.

Special Issue Will Contain Over 300 Pages; Material
Unavailable Elsewhere Includes Commerce
Commission History

The Interstate Commerce Commission Semi-Centennial Issue of The Law Review, to be published this month in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Commission, is occasioning widespread interest among practitioners, it was stated last week by Prof. John A. McIntire, editor of The Law Review.

The issue will be more than twice the size of regular numbers of The Law Review, containing more than 300 pages. Material concerning the history and functions of the Commission, of great importance in the field of interstate commerce law and not available elsewhere, will be carried.

All subscribers will receive copies of the special issue as part of their regular subscriptions. In addition, a clothbound edition will be printed, for which already more than 300 orders have been received.

18,000 Announcements Mailed

Because of interest in the issue, the Association of Practitioners Before the Interstate Commerce Commission recently mailed announcements concerning it to some 18,000 lawyers, including its own membership and members of other bodies.

Articles to appear in the special issue are:

1. The Interstate Commerce Commission and Its Work, by Clyde B. Aitchison, member of the commission and chairman of the committee in charge of the commemorative issue.

2. Practice and Procedure Before the Interstate Commerce Commission, by Elmer A. Smith, general attorney of the Illinois Central system.

3. The Interstate Commerce Commission and the Courts, by Prof. A. M. Tollefson, of the law faculty of Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa.

4. The Interstate Commerce Commission and Congress, by John J. Esch, former member of the commission.

5. The Doctrine of Precedents and the Interstate Commerce Commission, by Prof. William H. Pittman, acting professor of law at the University of Kentucky.

The issue will also have student-written editorial notes on various phases of the commission's work. Among these will be:

1. The Functions of the Interstate Commerce Commission in Railroad Reorganization Proceedings, by Charles S. Rhyne.

2. The Administration of the Motor Carrier Act, 1935, by the Interstate Commerce Commission, by Anthony R. Delfino, Irvin Leichter, Frank E. Moss, and Reed A. Stout.

3. The Interstate Commerce Commission and Standard Time Zones, by Wayne H. Knight.

4. The Development of Safety Appliance Legislation, by Bernard Margolius.

5. Should the Interstate Commerce Commission Remain an Independent Agency? by George H. Mortimer.

Masonic Club Holds Smoker

Hears Lecture on Spain
With National U. Group
March 20

The Masonic Club will have a supper meeting and smoker March 20, 8:45 p.m., at the Colonial Hotel, in conjunction with the National University Masonic Club.

Dean Charles Pergler of National University Law School will give an illustrated lecture on war-torn Spain and will discuss the progress of Freemasonry in the Spanish Republic.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by a committee consisting of Frank G. Ketcham, chairman; M. E. G. Brunow, and C. J. Williamson.

All students, faculty, and alumni are invited. A 50-cent dinner fee will be charged. No reservation necessary.

Carlton Edwards' Band To Sail In Summer

Leaving New York on June 16 to return fourteen days later, Carlton Edwards and his five-member band will play on the Normandie for one trip to France this summer, according to a statement made by Mr. H. F. La Penotiere, of the French Lines, last week.

Members of the orchestra making the trip are Carlton Edwards, Joe Jones, Vance Wyckoff, Kit Carson, and Ed Rothwell.

The band will leave New York making their first stop in England. They will leave England for way to Le Havre, France, leaving there two days later, June 26.

Rothwell is the only member of the band who is not presently a student at the University. Edwards has had an orchestra, consisting of students of the University for the past three years. Carson has also conducted an orchestra for many student dances.

Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemical fraternity, will hold a regular meeting Friday at 8 in Building D.

Scholarship Cup Won This Year By Sigma Kappa

Sigma Kappa has won the sorority scholarship cup given by the Panhellenic Association for the year ending Feb. 1, 1937, according to figures released last week by the registrar. They averaged 2.7017. Kappa Kappa Gamma came in second this year with an average of 2.6808, closely followed by Pi Beta Phi which averaged 2.6769.

The averages for each sorority arranged by rank are as follows: Sigma Kappa, 2.7017; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 2.6808; Pi Beta Phi, 2.6769; Alpha Delta Pi, 2.6400; Alpha Delta Theta, 2.6145; Phi Sigma Sigma, 2.6069; Delta Zeta, 2.5661; Beta Phi Mu, 2.4054; Zeta Tau Alpha, 2.3805; and Chi Omega, 2.3610.

Dr. White Dies Of Pneumonia Here Sunday

Dr. W. A. White

Dr. William Alanson White, professor of psychiatry in the School of Medicine since 1904, died Sunday morning at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, of which he had been superintendent since 1903. He was 67.

Dr. White succumbed to influenza and pneumonia, which developed from chills and fever with which he was stricken at a banquet the previous Monday night.

A world-renowned authority in the field of psychiatry and mental hygiene, he delivered the commencement address at the winter convocation of the University Feb. 22. On the same occasion the University conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. He was an elected member of the Society of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific fraternity, the University chapter of which was installed at the convocation.

Dr. White had devoted almost his entire medical career to the service of the University and the United States Government, which administers St. Elizabeth's Hospital through the Interior Department. He had been superintendent of this institution for the past 34 years.

Dr. White worked untiringly to make St. Elizabeth's the model mental hospital of the world. The famous Prof. Emil Kraepelin, of Munich, known as "The Master" in mental science, on a visit to the United States some years ago spent two weeks at the hospital. Upon leaving, Prof. Kraepelin said: "This

Briggs Arranges Trip

Dean Briggs of the School of Pharmacy will go to New York this week to complete plans for the trip to be taken by members of the school to the Squibb Laboratories during Easter week.

Stevlinsong Is Selected For Radio Players' Leading Role

Humphrey, Coit Support
Lead in "The Forgotten
Patriot"

Edward Stevlinsong was selected in final auditions Friday to play the title role of James Otis in "The Forgotten Patriot," to be broadcast over Station WMAL March 18 by Radio Players of Cue and Curtain.

Frances Humphrey will play the female lead, Phyllis Blake and Hamilton Coit the chief supporting role. Daniel Bruntz, Double and triple parts will be taken by John Coggin as John Adams and Dr. Joseph Warren; William Ewing as "a citizen" and "second British captain"; and Frank Ford Burnet as "English customs officer," "first British captain," and "Shep, a dog."

Others in the cast are Arthur Anderson, Captain Richard Williams; Maurice Kimmel, Thomas, a coffee house keeper; Virginia McCann, Mercy Warren; Henrietta Padgett, Norah, Mercy Warren's housekeeper; Kathryn E. Bowers, Mrs. Blake; and Deane Bryant, John Robinson. Bryant will also be the student narrator. Bill Ferguson will handle the sound effects.

Bement in Charge

Douglas Bement, professor of English and director of the players, is in charge of production. "The Forgotten Patriot," a drama based on the Revolutionary War career of James Otis, was written by John Paul Cullen in the Creative Writing class, and is the second radio play to be broadcast this year by Radio Players. Two more plays will be broadcast later in the year.

The drama depicts episodes in Otis' life that reveal his early leadership of the Massachusetts Colonists in their first struggles with King George III. He is portrayed as a man who, foreseeing eventual revolt as a result of the Writ of Assistance and the tax impositions, sought to arouse the people against British destruction of Colonial rights.

Cue & Curtain Will Perform March 19, 20

Mitchell, McVicker Add
Love Interest to Irish Play

With presentation at the Wardman Park Theater on March 19 and 20, Cue and Curtain's production of "The New Gossamer," Irish play by George Shiels, is rounded into final shape. Director Marvin Beers announces:

The complete cast is: Maxine Mitchell, as Sally Hamill; Mimi Norton, Ellen Cary; John Kendrick, Rabbit Hamill; Tom Dobson, Peter Cary; Betty Griswold, Mag Kehoe; Harold Minor, Ned Shay; Charles McVicker, Luke Cary; Margaret Young, Biddle Henly; J. Jarnagin, Mad Henly.

Miss Mitchell, as Sally Hamill, is a smart, perk young Irish biddie, more or less in love with Luke Cary (Charles McVicker), an eccentric young Irishman addicted to upsetting the traditions and customs of the older generation. Miss Norton, as Ellen Cary, portrays a widow of about 35 or 40, sweet and dominating, and very much in love with her hired man, Ned Shay (Harold Minor). Kendrick plays Rabbit Hamill, a wily, smooth, reprobate, addicted to the gentle art of poaching.

Dobson is Peter Cary, brother-in-law of Ellen Cary, and a respectable Irish business man—quick tempered and dignified. Miss Griswold and Harold Minor play the servants; Mag Kehoe and Ned Shay, in the Cary household, Margaret Young plays Henly, the daughter of Mad Henly (J. Jarnagin).

Tickets for the play are on sale in the Student Club at the Cue and Curtain desk. Admission is by Coupon book or 75 cents.

Marvin Will Appear Before Reorganization Committee's Open Hearing On March 18

Cherry Tree Is Dedicated To Marvin For Past Work

President's 10 Years' Service
Commemorated by Yearbook

The Cherry Tree board will dedicate the 1937 edition of the yearbook to President Cloyd Heck Marvin in commemoration of his 10 years' service to the University. Since 1927, when Dr. Marvin became president, the University has improved markedly in physical appearance and in scholastic standards.

Four new buildings have been added including Buildings C and D, sorority hall and Strong Hall. In the last year the University has been recognized for its outstanding scholarship by the addition of a chapter of Sigma Xi, national scientific research fraternity, and an invitation to apply for a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

A statement from President Marvin will be included in the annual together with his most recent photograph. Although the contents of this statement have not been divulged, it is assumed that it will be of vital interest to all students.

The Cherry Tree staff is working double time in order to complete the yearbook within the next few weeks. Seniors must turn in their class record cards to the publication office immediately if they wish to have their pictures included in the senior section.

The winners of the beauty contest, sponsored by the Cherry Tree, will not be announced until the annual is published. The entries are at present in the hands of George Petty, illustrator for Esquire, who will judge the contest. Each of these entrants will have a large photo of herself in the beauty section. In addition the picture section will be much larger than in previous editions.

Drive of Senior Class for Funds For Pole Starts

The drive of the Senior Class to raise money for the completion of the fund partially raised by the Senior Class of last year to erect a second flagpole in the yard is well under way, according to Al Heckel, president of the Senior Council.

A letter requesting a contribution of one dollar for this purpose has been sent to each member of the class. Receipt books are in the hands of the delegates of the various schools and divisions.

All remittances to the Gift Fund should be addressed to Al Heckel, 1715 19th St., or to Eleanor Livingston, 736 22nd St. The delegates on the Council, who may receive contributions, are: Dorothy Pickett, Columbian College; Lella Holley, Education; Marion Myers, Engineering; Gussie May Hynes, Fine Arts; Eleanor Livingston, Government; Omer Hoebeck, Law School; Margaret Clark, Library Science, and Julius Symons, Pharmacy.

Geologists Meet To Make Plans

Chi Upsilon, honorary geological sorority, will hold a meeting Friday at the home of Elaine Arnaud, 1500 21st St. The by-laws will be revised and plans made for the anniversary dinner.

The regular meeting last month was postponed because of the lecture given instead by Dr. Nelson H. Darton, who spoke on the geology of Washington, showing pictures of fossils found in the vicinity and exhibiting rocks containing rare minerals.

Phi Delta Epsilon Meets
Members of D. C., Maryland and Virginia chapters of Phi Delta Epsilon, medical fraternity, held a convention in Baltimore Saturday. Four University students, all from Washington, were initiated: Morris Menash, Aaron Saldman, Saul Zuckerman and Sam Futrovsky. A banquet and dance followed the ceremony.

Miss Ruth Finney Guest of Honor At Meeting Here

Miss Ruth Finney, editorial writer and political commentator of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, was guest of honor at a tea held Sunday afternoon in the Phi Beta Phi rooms. The tea was held under the sponsorship of Gamma Eta Zeta and Phi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic organizations.

Miss Finney was introduced by Howard Ennes and rather than give a formal speech she presided at a round table discussion of the current journalistic problems and attitudes. Women's place in the newspaper world and the future of the newspaper as rivalled by the radio in news getting and news transmitting ability were among the topics discussed.

Johnstone Sponsors Teas
Dean Johnstone of the Junior College, is planning a series of teas for students of the Junior College and their parents, to be given on March 14, 21, and April 4. The teas will be given in collaboration with student advisers, Mrs. Kirkpatrick and students in the home economics department will provide refreshments.

Debaters Will Act With
Students From 30
Colleges

Rico, He is a member of the Center Party of the Union. Miss Farr, member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority, was one of the two representatives of the University who recently went on a debating tour to Pittsburgh and Allegheny College. She is a member of the Right Party of the Union.

Wayne Kniffin, also a Union member, graduated from Eastern High School, where he was a debater, a year ago last month. He appeared in college debate for the first time against the Y.M.C.A. last week.

Stuart Russell, Acacia, is also a neophyte on the debating squad this year, and a member of the Union. He transferred from the University of Oklahoma this fall, and had experience in intercollegiate debating at that institution.

Last year the University was represented at the second annual Model Senate Association, at New Jersey College, by Reba, Edelman and Maxine Farley. The girls were senators from Oklahoma.

Special Student Council Meeting Will Be Held Same Night

Marvin Will Discuss Student Work at 10 O'clock Meet

President Cloyd Heck Marvin will address a public meeting of the Student Council Committee on Activity Reorganization tentatively set for 10 p.m., March 18, it was announced Sunday night by Charles F. Kiefer, chairman of the committee. The place will be announced next week.

Ross Pope, president of the Student Council, announced Sunday that the Council will hold a special meeting the same evening at 8:15 to assist the President by representing the views of students at the meeting he will address.

President Marvin indicated his interest in the work and developments of the committee at a conference last week with Kiefer, and expressed a willingness to appear at a series of meetings, if necessary, to discuss the committee's work and developments.

At a conference of Student Council members two weeks ago, which included Kiefer, Pope, Robert Howell, and Jay Samuel, of the Council, and Prof. John A. McIntire, chairman of the Student Life Committee, President Marvin said the Council's powers were unlimited within the field of student activities.

For powers outside this field, the president told the Council members to "go to the students," with a referendum, if necessary.

Subjects which it was indicated will come up for discussion included the future plans of the University, the organization of student activities, the role of student activities in the University plan, the departmental set-ups, and any other questions or propositions to him from the floor by interested students.

In announcing the meeting Sunday night, Kiefer emphasized the fact that the meeting will be open to all students of the University. He said letters will be sent this week to leaders in student activities requesting them to be present with any questions they wish to ask fixed in their minds in advance.

Literary Club Hears Gsovski

Georgetown Prof. Will Appear on Program Honoring Pushkin

The Literary Club's Pushkin program, at which Dr. Vladimir Gsovski, instructor of Russian language and literature at Georgetown University, will be guest speaker, will be held next Tuesday, in D-104.

Dr. Gsovski, who will talk on the life of the Russian author and his position in Russian literature, has had long preparation for such a speech. He was connected with the Moscow Art Theater and the Imperial Theater in his native land before the war. Since then, traveling over Europe and this country as an exile, he has written several articles and poems for Russian publications. At present he is a member of the Central Russian Committee on Pushkin, and treasurer of the Washington, Pushkin Commission.

It is planned that, in addition to his talk, he will read in his native Russian some of the works of the man whose centenary he is commemorating. Dr. Marvin T. Herick, associate professor of English, will follow this with translations. Dr. Gsovski will hold open forum after his talk.

Student Council Elections To Be April 22 and 23

Student Council elections will probably be held on April 22 and 23, according to Robert Howell, chairman of the Council Elections Committee. He will recommend these dates to the Student Council tonight.

If the Student Council approves the above dates, the rules governing the election, which fix the eligibility of candidates, the polling place and the time of voting, together with the procedure to be followed, will be released next week.

Theta Tau Meets
Gamma Beta chapter of Theta Tau, national professional engineering fraternity, will hold a dinner meeting Wednesday night at 7 p.m. at Lloyd's Cafeteria, 1819 G St. The members of the local chapter will bring guests who will be excused after the dinner when the regular business of the chapter will be discussed.

Phi Sigma Rho Meets
Richard Johnson and Arthur Weissman will advocate opposing views on the question "Is freedom (the absence of determinism) the necessary basis of morality?" in an open meeting of Phi Sigma Rho, philosophical society, in Corcoran 17 tomorrow night at 8:15.

Browning, Farr, Kniffin, Russell To Attend Model Senate

Two Union Members Are Included in Party
Going to Meet

Edmund Browning, Eleanor Farr, Wayne Kniffin, and Stuart Russell, members of the men's and women's varsity debate squads, will represent George Washington as delegates to the third annual Model Senate, at Princeton University Friday and Saturday.

During two sessions, one Friday afternoon, and one Saturday afternoon, and through committee meetings, the debaters will discuss some of the most pressing national issues with students from more than 30 leading colleges throughout the country.

The Model Senate, as its name implies, is a replica of the United States Senate. After registering Friday at noon, the delegates from the various colleges, who will represent the states of their choice, two from each state, will meet in plenary session. At that time bills will be presented. Bills may be presented on three subjects. This year the subjects are neutrality, congressional control of wages and hours, and either revision on the judicial system or some amendment to the constitution making it unnecessary. The delegates will be divided up into three committees. They will hold hearings at which lobbyists for various interests will testify and be cross-examined. In another plenary session Saturday afternoon the bills will be passed or rejected. Browning, who is serving his second year as a University debater, debated against the Y.M.C.A. Friday night. Last year he debated against Pennsylvania and a team from the University of Puerto

Dr. William A. White

A HEADLINE in one of our city's daily papers read, "White's Death Mourned by Nation." And so it is when such a man as Dr. William A. White passes on. No person, no group, no institution can claim him as its own, for his life has influenced many and just so his death is felt by many.

Here was a man outstanding in medical activities whose work in psychiatry won him world-wide recognition. A man who started in a comparatively obscure field of science and with his associates, educated the public mind to its significance and potentialities. It was largely through Dr. White's efforts that psychology and its associated subjects were introduced as serious problems for study in educational institutions.

Here was a man who found something to believe in and taught others how to believe in it. George Washington has been privileged to know him. George Washington is privileged to join the nation in mourning his death.

Sphinx Dissolves

SPHINX Honor Society, which has recognized unusual scholastic ability among senior women since 1912, has voted to terminate its existence with the present academic year.

The organization which in early times was fairly active in student affairs has tended in recent years to become more strictly a group to recognize by membership the seven highest ranking women of the Senior Class, whose scholastic indices stood at or above 3.5. Sphinx dissolves itself in recognition of the fact that the Columbian Honor Society, a group established last spring to honor both men and women of the Columbian College who make 3.5 averages or above, makes Sphinx's continued existence unnecessary and superfluous as far as that college is concerned. Most of the professional schools also have special societies which honor outstanding students by membership.

It is not often that a group which becomes superfluous will become publicly aware of the fact. Too often the organization lingers on in a dying state until its uselessness is generally recognized and it meets the ignominious end of terminating its existence by request or through its inability to attract new members to its folds. The name of Sphinx will never be associated with so distasteful an exit. Recent action by the actives and alumnae of the society insures it of being remembered, not as a group which fell by the wayside, but as an organization which served a cause faithfully and well for 24 years and which wisely gave way to the new when the cause for its existence became a thing of the past.

Law Review

FEW of us take time to consider the amount of prestige that the work of our professional schools add to the University as a whole.

The reputation of intellectual achieving and achievement, the ideal of any university, is often supported by work in the professional schools of a university. Often this work is done in some specialized field which escapes the popular notice of the university at large, more particularly the students.

One of the well-aged University activities whose scholarly results are surveyed by only a certain group in the University is the George Washington Law Review. And yet it is one of the activities of the University which commands wide interest throughout the country.

The George Washington University Law Review, issued quarterly, deals with national and international law instead of concentrating on local points of law, and consequently is of applicable interest to lawyers throughout the country.

Because the Review has always held to a high standard, the quality of its contents as well as the subject matter has insured it a widespread circulation.

This month the editors are issuing a semi-centennial issue in honor of the Interstate Commerce Commission which will be more than twice the size of the regular issue and which will contain material concerning the history and functions of the Interstate Commerce Commission which is not available elsewhere. The issue is creating such interest among practitioners that already, on the basis of what the Review editors have put out in the past, 300 orders for special clothbound editions have been received. Such a fact speaks for itself.

Those who have directed their efforts toward the maintaining and building up of the Law Review merit the praise and appreciation of all connected with the University. They have not only promulgated scholarship in their own school, but have so acted that the truth they achieve is not only available to but is actually of use to scholars of law throughout the nation. A mark of distinction most worthy of an educational institution.

A Compliment

SELF-SATISFACTION with a job well done is gratifying, but the complimentary judgments pronounced by competent impartial observers prove even more gratifying.

The Sigma Xi installation ceremonies held at Convocation exercises, February 22, were enthusiastically received in University circles, not only for the significance they bore but for the manner in which they were conducted.

A letter from Dr. Edward Ellery, presiding officer for the occasion, who in his capacity as national officer of The Society of the Sigma Xi would attend all installation ceremonies of the society, gives an impartial observer's view which could hardly be more flattering to those who staged the installation program and to the University as a whole.

In a letter to Dr. Paul Bartsch he said:

"Please accept my hearty congratulations upon the very successful and most brilliant program of installation of the George Washington Chapter which you and your colleagues carried out on Monday afternoon. I have already written to Dr. Bowman that comparisons are never tactful, but I can't refrain from saying to you as I have already stated to him, that the entire event Monday afternoon and evening was the most impressive installation that I have known in our great society since I have been in office. It all augurs well for the future activities of the George Washington Chapter, and is sure to be an inspiring example to all new chapters. The officers and the society at large are grateful to you for the auspicious beginning of the George Washington Chapter."

A Few Comments In Re Troubadours

TROUBADOURS, an old activity as activities go here, struggled hard last week for revival, but failed and fell back into dormancy for another year. A handful of students, some of whom were members of the Troubadours production staff in previous years, went before the Committee on Forensics and Dramatics, asked for approval to proceed with their plans, and were denied, for what appear to be some very good reasons.

Their plans, it was felt, were too sketchy to make possible a creditable production by the date they had set tentatively for the show, April 9. Aside from the time element, the committee considered the show "awfully expensive," and did not feel the proposed budget was adequate.

The proposed show, "Time Moosches On," chronicles the experiences of a twentieth century couple who are taken back to the Stone Age and then proceed through all the ages that follow until they finally reach the present time again. It is a period show of the first degree, consisting of 12 scenes, nearly all of which require period costumes, so the committee considered insufficient the $100 that had been allotted for costumes. A member of the group which asked approval pointed out, however, that during his experience in the organization, costume expense had never exceeded $125, and "this time it would be even less."

A majority of the faculty committee members are in favor of the revival of Troubadours, but they think it would be a mistake to allow the production of a show which did not have more time for rehearsals, publicity and sales campaigns.

Another objection that developed from the administration, though not through the committee, concerned the practicability of staging student-written shows. That, in the past, has always been Troubadours policy, and its shows have always been entirely student-written, music as well as scripts.

During its 10 years or so of activity, Troubadours has had written and has presented some good shows. Its last, entitled "Bride of the Incas," was given two years ago, but could hardly be classed with the best in that organization's career. But in former years had been shown "Take It Easy," "Oh, Say Can't You See," "Gypsy in Egypt," and some others that did go over and did receive favorable comment.

Just how good the show that was planned for this year is, cannot, of course, be known, as the test is always the reaction of the audience, but the backers of the movement that was climaxed last week, seem to think it was great possibilities. It had not been completed, but there was a synopsis of the plot and several scenes had been completed. The author of the dialogue, Robert Swezey, has done some excellent work for Radio Players and in the Creative Writing Class.

In its day, Troubadours prospered. Starting back about 1926 or '27, the organization had grown in scope and importance and at the time of its demise was one of the ranking activities on the campus. It prospered under a leadership that was rather permanent for a student activity. It had its shows written to fit its stars and often got by with scripts that included such as "Sickler does that piece about Little Nell here."

But its shows, almost without exception, were well-written, well-directed, and well-played and the fact that the brief reference was made to an act meant only that the player would go better natural than as a character. The music was usually good, too, and included often half a dozen numbers, some of them typical production numbers, while others featured one or more of the cast.

That was before "Bride of the Incas," which failed because it was a good example of what its predecessors had not been. In the quality of that show can be placed much of the responsibility for Troubadours' sudden decline and its inactivity for two years. It was partly fear of a recurrence of such a show that moved the Committee on Forensics and Dramatics to withhold approval for "Time Moosches On."

What the committee did, instead, was to suggest to the group that a constitution for Troubadours be drawn up and presented to the Student Life Committee with a request for recognition. That done, work should begin immediately on a show, music, set designs, for next year and tryouts, publicity and sales campaigns should begin well in advance of the production date.

This suggestion will probably be accepted, as the only alternative. I hope the new Troubadours production board and staff is successful in its further efforts.

MEDITATIONS AND SPECULATIONS

Center Party Declines; Musical Show Nipped in Bud; Dean Wilbur Comments on Activities

By Winfield Rankin

IT IS with regret that this column notes that two very worthwhile groups on the campus have become eligible to join the Maine and Vermont Club for Lost Hopes.

Specifically I refer to the failure of Troubadours, erstwhile musical dramatic group, to gain the approval of the Committee on Forensics and Dramatics, and to the Center Party, which has by its actions at the last Union meeting shown itself to be unreliable.

Troubadours' return was sponsored by several prominent campus leaders, and I am confident the student body in general would like to have seen a return of this group which would have given more opportunities for students in one production than Cue and Curtain does in several. The sponsors had worked hard for several months getting

So when some beautiful, charming and wonderful girl comes up to you, some unsuspected member of the homo gender, and some gay lothario puts his arm around you, my little chickadee, do not be surprised they are after your vote.

Lectures, Elections, Elections, that is the program that will confront the poor unprotected student in the coming few weeks.

Now it appears that there are two bodies around here, each claiming the other dead. Each of them will be telling the rest of the campus that the other one is crooked, has not the interests of the campus at heart, and that it alone has the cure-all for student problems.

The fact that you do not know the difference between the progressives, Service Club, right, center and left parties is irrelevant—do not be surprised. We are not so sure whether we are writing about the Union or the Student Council, and not knowing how are you to know, you got us. What difference, well, at campaign time they seem to get somewhat mixed up.

The fact that you do not know the candidates, never saw the platforms before the day of election makes no difference. You are to vote with candor at any cost. It is somewhat akin to the Democratic-Republican mix-up. You vote for about fifty people whose names you have never heard of, and are not faintly familiar with.

Do not blame the poor little damsel or gay lothario who comes tripping up to you for this calamity. It is not due to them and so, heaven forbid, do not resist the embrace, (you're insane if you do) for it only happens once a year—for it is the fault of the system. So What?

Looks at Books

By FLORA GILL

It is a very large surprise to meet the Troubadour Queen in Melrich, V. Rosenberg's "Eleanor of Aquitaine" and be told that no other English version of her biography has previously been recorded. 800 years is a long time for such a fascinating lady to escape English print, especially one who so greatly influenced Britain's history.

Her period and her associates were so colorful, as well as herself, that her story, with any thought behind it at all, could not help but be entertaining. Mr. Rosenberg, however, has not contented himself with mere thought. His research apparently burrowed deep, so that its result makes one conscious of having learned a great deal and of having had a pleasant time in the process.

Eleanor was a busy person and she inspires a busy book. She plunges from place to place and activity to activity, including divorcing a king of France to marry a king of England, bestowing a quantity of children between the two, (we counted ten) and attaining a degree of intellectual superiority and power strange to a woman of her time. She had much to say about subsequent history, with her vast land inheritance, which brought her royal husbands, with her notorious son, Richard the Lion Hearted, who brought her house

Richardson Heads Society For Twenty-Sixth Time

Dr. Edward E. Richardson, Elton professor of philosophy, was recently reelected president of the Society for Philosophical Inquiry of Washington, for the 26th consecutive term. During the past 40 years this society has had only two presidents. The first president, James McBride Stetson, was the predecessor of Professor Richardson at this University.

quite a reputation, and with her manipulation of persons, which brought some three hundred years of war.

The author seems to have used her life less as a biography than as a background for events. He bothers very little about character delineation, and what little seeps through, the reader acquires between the lines. One is left in no doubt as to the heroine's color, however, and her position of Queen of the Troubadours and the Courts of Love interestingly reveals the leader of the most enormous group of people you'd expect to find in history.

If crusades, wars, customs, and kings take leadership in the book, we think it would be quite splendid if the more intimate life and character of the Troubadour Queen were stressed in a play or movie, though in the latter some of the extra-curricular activities of her marital existence would have to be subdued. On a stage, she would make such mere folk as Victoria Regina and Mary of Scotland seem as colorful as cakes of Ivory Soap.

Jerry Ray, Evangeline Rice Will Lead Prom Grand March

Hal Kemp's Orchestra Will Furnish Music for Annual Interfraternity Promenade

Prominent Faculty Members Are Invited to Act as Patrons; Gate and Key Will Tap; Fraternity Awards Will Be Made

GERALDINE RAY and Evangeline Rice have been chosen as leaders of the 1937 Interfraternity Prom, which is to be presented to G. W. society tomorrow evening in the Grand Ballroom of the Willard Hotel from 10 to 2. Miss Ray will be escorted by Charles McCoy, social chairman of the Interfraternity Council; and Miss Rice will be escorted by Ben Candland, president of the council.

The Interfraternity Council has been fortunate in securing the services of Hal Kemp and his famous orchestra, who have made dance music history and gained international prominence as the creators of a fresh, lilting, distinctive band of syncopation. Their ultra modern style has elevated them to the front ranks in a comparatively short time.

Faculty members and their wives who have been invited by the interfraternity group to act as patrons and patronesses are as follows: President and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Dean and Mrs. Elmer Louis Kayser, Dean and Mrs. Henry Gratton Doyle, Professor and Mrs. Norman Bruce Ames and Professor and Mrs. John Albert McIntyre.

Grand March Impressive

The grand march was practiced until perfected Sunday in the ballroom and the figure promises to be one of the most beautiful and impressive of prom history. The line of march will be led by the officers of the Interfraternity Council and their dates, followed by the other delegates on the council. Following this group, three officers from each fraternity will march with their dates in the order of the formation of their organizations on campus.

Extensive decorations have been made at the ballroom. Unique lighting effects have been provided by the hotel and a crystal globe will be used to add to the beauty of the affair. Fraternity banners will appropriately adorn the boxes assigned to the various groups.

Gate and Key Taps

At intermission, Morse Allen, president of Gate and Key, will conduct the tapping ceremonies of that organization. Following this, Howard Gatewood, activities chairman, will present scholarship and athletic cups awarded by the council. Prom invitations are available at all fraternity houses on campus.

Women Will Give Demonstrations In Gymnastics

The Department of Physical Education for Women is fast completing plans for an informal presentation of some of the winter's activities carried on in the department classes in the form of an open evening to be held at 7:30 March 17, in the University gym.

The leaders of these various activities are major students who are preparing to be teachers on physical education. The program includes basketball achievement tests, under the direction of Doris Dungan, and tap dances; "Minnie Mouse" and "School Days", led by Erma Cannon.

The University's crack women sharpshooters will also demonstrate techniques in rifle shooting which will be followed by Christine Herrmann's group on the fundamentals in modern dance and a fencing drill.

Individual gymnastics with a fashion show directed by Leila Holley will be one of the highlights of the program. The participants will first come in showing all possible defects in my lady's torso as a contrast to their later entrance a la perfect posture.

A presentation of awards by Margaret Graves, retiring president of the Women's Athletic Association, and the final matches of the mixed doubles and women's doubles badminton tournaments will complete the program.

S. P. E. Elects Morgan; Pledge Officers Elected

George Morgan was recently elected president of Sigma Phi Epsilon. The other officers include: Philip Egan, vice president; Richard Simmers, secretary; Richard William, historian; and Bill Hillmore and Waldo Schmidt, guards.

The pledge chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha held elections of officers Thursday, March 4. The officers are: Anne Lehman, president; Lois Dyer, vice president; Barbara Burt, secretary; and Irene Rowan treasurer; Eleanor Burdette, recording secretary; Betty Wilkinson, Marshal.

Luther Club Holds

Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Seeger and Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Ruediger were guests at a tea given by the Luther Club Sunday afternoon in the Columbian House. Presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. Seeger, Miss Helen Dyingier, one of the advisers of the club, and Mrs. Oscar F. Blackwelder, wife of the advisers.

Fraternities Add Many

Twelve Groups Announce Initiations and Pledgings

VARIOUS fraternities and societies on the campus have announced the pledging and initiation of additional students:

Alpha Delta Pi has pledged Betty Turner.

Beta Phi Alpha pledged Margaret Lichke, Helen Murphy and Myrtle Thompson.

Kappa Delta announces the following initiates: Virginia Birkby, Ann Croft, Phoebe Guthrie, Faith Hite, Aurelia Mitchell, Alice Moon, Louise Porter, Hazel Pruitt, Mildred Sonstrom, Rosalyn Sullivan, Ann Ward, Margaret Williamson and Sally Anderson.

Pi Beta Phi has pledged Marion Brown, Ann Joyce David, Peggy Kletchka, Betty Tebb, Hazel Tipps and Rachel Wells.

The initiates of Zeta Tau Alpha are Jane Coulter, Betty Newsom, Betty Peabody and Marjorie Weber.

Phi Sigma Kappa initiates are Bruce Borum, Chester Clark, Arthur Coffman, Newton Dempsey, Robert Faris, Charles Grunwell, Stuart Johnston, Warren Martin, John Strong and Clement Zimney. Theta Delta Chi initiated Edward Casselman recently.

Joseph Goldman, Morris Stolar and Izzy Weinberg are the new initiates of Phi Alpha.

Neat Tone has been pledged by Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Phi Mu will hold a "Healthmobile" benefit performance of the New York stage hit "Parnell", Monday at the Belasco.

The Healthmobile is the Phi Mu philanthropic project maintained in Georgia and which brings the facilities of up-to-date science to the less fortunate.

Engineers' Banquet, May 8

The Engineering Council met last week and set May 8 as the date of the ninth annual engineering banquet which was originally scheduled for April 17.

Tickets may be obtained at the Phi Mu rooms.

International Group Plans Annual Ball

Roosevelt Hotel Will Be Scene of Gala Event Friday

WHAT promises to be one of the most brilliant annual balls given by the International Students Society, will be held Friday from 10 to 1 p. m. at the Roosevelt Hotel. Music by Carlton Edwards' orchestra will feature the old-fashioned, rhythmic waltzes of the late 80's, and multi-colored flags of all nations will form a gala background for the dancers.

A reception will be held from 9:30 to 10 p. m. with members of the committee, assisted by Prof. Alan T. Deibert, adviser to the society receiving. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Bowman will be among the guests of honor, and members of the diplomatic corps are expected to attend.

During intermission a floor show will be presented, including a quartet and Ben Genia, soloist, of the G. W. Glee Club, and members of the Julia Cunningham School of Dance.

The ball is the social highlight of the season's activities and is open to the public. Tickets are $2.20 a couple and $1.65 stag, and can be secured from members of the society or Prof. Deibert at the International House. Tickets may also be bought at the door.

Union Repeals "Red Rider", Debates Bills

Soil Conservation Is Approved; Amendment Resolution Heard

Arguing before a meeting comparatively devoid of Centrists, members of the Union last Wednesday passed the Soil Conservation bill, repealed the District's "Red Rider," heard a proposal for cancelling war debts, and a resolution favoring Borah's amendment to the Constitution.

Chairman Everett Bellows (L), directing most of his remarks to the almost vacant Center section of the meeting, suggested that while we do not have anything as interesting as the Supreme Court last week, it seems that more Centrists would have attended this, the regular meeting of the Union. He then pointed out the different features of the bill and asked for its passage.

Considerable petty discussion was aroused over the wording of the bill, but the reporting committee effectively suppressed the points.

Discussions immediately turned to a proposal to repeal the "Red Rider" clause in the District of Columbia's appropriation bill, which says, in effect, that teaching or advocating communism in the public schools of the District is forbidden.

A slight discussion followed, but no serious opposition was presented and the vote was 34-3 in favor of passage. A quorum was called for, but since the Executive Committee had lowered the quorum, the acting sergeant-at-arms was able to persuade enough members to come in from the hall to make it up.

Charles Kiefer (L) then introduced the unexpected proposal of cancelling all the war debts which other countries owe us, saying "let's forget them as far as collection goes, but for Heaven's sake remember the circumstances under which they were formed." The proposal was tabled.

A resolution favoring Borah's proposed amendment to the Constitution, giving Congress more powers than it has at present was presented by William Gausman (R) who read Borah's amendment, in full and asked for serious Union consideration. The resolution was tabled.

is the finest institution I have ever been in. In my estimation, Dr. White is to be ranked with the great scientists of our time." Graduating from Cornell University in 1889, he received his M. D. degree from Long Island Medical College in 1891.

Entering medical practice in 1892 he served as assistant physician in Binghamton State Hospital until 1903. In that year he was called to St. Elizabeth's by President Roosevelt. The next year he became professor of psychiatry here, and continued in both posts until his death.

A wide variety of scientific and medical honors were paid Dr. White by the members of his profession. In 1930 he was elected first president of the International Congress on Mental Hygiene. He was also president of the Washington Academy of Medicine and the Washington Institute of Mental Hygiene. He was former president of the American Psychiatric Association, American Psychopathology Association, and the American Psychoanalytic Association.

Was Prolific Writer

He was a prolific writer and lecturer on psychiatry and educational methods, and believed strongly in his role as a teacher. Speaking at the winter convocation he said:

"The teacher occupies a tactical position of great strategic importance in the life of the student. These men must be first of all men of character, because the students will characteristically identify themselves with their beloved teachers and attempt to emulate them. We need to put to work such concepts as the modern develop-

Richard Halliburton Will Lecture Here Next Week

Richard Halliburton, famous author and world traveler, will lecture on travels in connection with his latest books at the Masonic Temple Auditorium Monday evening at 8:15. He will speak under the auspices of the World Caravan Guild, of which Dr. A. Curtis Wilgus, of the University is educational director.

Halliburton and his "Seven League Boots" will transport his listeners beyond the horizon with his eventful and interesting tales. He is author of "The Royal Road to Romance," "The Glorious Adventure," "New Worlds to Conquer," and "The Flying Carpet." These four books together have sold nearly a million copies, and are his best-known works.

During the past year Halliburton has been a newspaper correspondent and has been writing for 40 leading metropolitan papers. He was free to roam the world, to go any place he chose, with an assignment to fill an entire page for the 40 papers every Sunday for 52 Sundays.

In a Siberian town he secured the first eye-witness story of the assassination of the Romanoffs, one of the greatest journalistic "scops" of the century. In the tracks of Hannibal he rode his famous elephant over the Alps into Italy, reliving the celebrated Carthaginian's immortal elephant-march with the great St. Bernard Pass.

Guest of Haile Selassie, then King of Ethiopia, for two months he observed at close range the progress of the Italian-Ethiopian war preparations, returning with first-hand impressions and startling conclusions. He is considered one of the most interesting speakers of the day.

Religious Clubs Announce Meets For This Week

Avukah, Zionist organization, will hold a meeting at 8:30 tonight at the home of Miriam Wydra, 1900 F St. Plans are being made to reorganize the seaboard region of the group.

There will be a social gathering of the group March 12 at 8:30 p. m. at the home of Toby Gerber, 1714 Upshur St.

The Baptist Student Union will meet at 7 o'clock tomorrow in Columbian House, to discuss plans for a series of meetings to be held in various churches throughout the city and conducted solely by students. These meetings will be held each Thursday and Sunday evening until the close of the school year. A tentative list of the churches includes Second, Calvary, Petworth, Metropolitan, and First Baptist Churches.

Coleman Jennings will be the speaker at the meeting of the Luther Club to be held tomorrow evening in Columbian House, at 8:10.

ment of psychology have given us, and to realize that the world is changed as much by our perception of it as we are changed by it."

It was largely through Dr. White's efforts that virtually all medical schools and colleges today teach psychology and its related subjects. He introduced it to the Army and Navy.

Most important of Dr. White's books is "An Outline of Psychology," which he finished in 1909 and which has gone into its fourteenth edition, achieving the greatest sale of any book on the subject. It forms the backbone in this country of the teaching of psychology.

Dance Group Gives Program On March 23

Orchesis Recital of Modern Dances at Gordon Junior High

For the first time in its history, Orchesis, women's honorary dance group, assisted by chosen members from modern dance classes, will present a public recital March 23 at Gordon Junior High, Wisconsin Ave. and T St.

Members of the 12 o'clock dance class will first present a study in locomotive patterns, pendular movements, and diagonal design, followed by Ann Gaffner, Lucy Petta, and Theda Hagenah in a march. Flora Blumenthal's solo, "Overheard in America," and Cecilia Couch's and Tatyana Jansky's study in sustained movement will be the highlights of the first half of the program.

"American Epic" The second presentation, "The American Epic," the main theme of which is the evolution of the spirit of freedom in modern dance, will be carried out through a series of dances illustrating the periods of nonconformity, idealism, and realism in the development of America's thought.

The Orchesis presentation, "The Shakers," illustrates the period of nonconformity. This dance is a satire on the early American Shaker religion.

Ruth Herrmann, Jean Yocum, Audrey Schipper, and Virginia Coulter represent "Illusions," which are the main themes in the idealistic period.

The last and most important series, the period of realism, features three solos, "The Speaker" by Tatyana Jansky, "Hysteria" by Helen Hoyem, and "Youth" by Barbara Feiker.

Conflict and Strife The first offering in this last group is a shadow study "Arbitration," by Shirley Feinburg, Barbara Harmon, and Lucy Tate, which depicts the modern labor upheaval and its comparative solution. The entire group in "The Mob" is followed by Miss Jansky's "The Speaker." All of these dances represent conflict and strife.

After the "Song of the Women," portrayed by Flora Blumenthal, Cecilia Couch, Helen Hoyem, Dahlia

Non-Sorority Women's Team Enters Debate

Entries Must Be Filed at Public Speaking Office by 5 p.m., Mar. 16

This year a team representing non-sorority women in Strong Hall will participate in the Interfraternity-Inter-sorority debates. With the exception of the Colonial Campus Club entries, this is the first time in the history of these debates that a non-fraternity or non-sorority group has participated.

All fraternities and sororities wishing to participate in the eighth annual debating tournament sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary debate fraternity, must make their entries at the office of the Public Speaking Department in D-415 by 5 p.m. March 16. Entries after this date will not be accepted.

Participation in these debates is open to all fraternities and sororities. The cups circulate, but will become the permanent possession of groups winning three debates. Zeta Tau Alpha and Phi Sigma Kappa have won the cup twice; Sigma Chi and Kappa Kappa Gamma won last year.

There will be a series of contests for the fraternities and one for the sororities. No debates will be held between fraternities and sororities, but will be interfraternity and intersorority.

Each fraternity and sorority will use a team of two active or pledge members. All students participating must be eligible to participate in student activities. No student who has participated, either at George Washington or elsewhere, in an intercollegiate debate, is eligible.

The entries should include the name, address and telephone number of the member of each organization who will be responsible for all communications concerning the contests.

Lewis, Bertha Lockhart, and Jane Smith, will come an interlude brought out by the children's group, Celeste Dorney, Ruth Keel, Ann Lehman, Martha Winters, Betty Whipple, and Mary Lou Nash.

Miss Hoyem's solo, "Hysteria," which follows, is a portrayal of an insane woman. Out of the conflict between the men, women, and children, Youth, in the person of Barbara Feiker, is triumphant. The finale, "Emergence," by the whole group depicts reconciliation and harmony.

Milton Salkind and Francis Stripling will be the accompanists.

Gossoon

Caricatured above is Harold Minor, who takes the part of Ned Shay in Cue and Curtains' production "The New Gossoon."

Flagpole's Base Will Be Changed, Old One Cracked

There will be a new base put up on the flagpole in the University yard within the next few days. Sometime in the next week the flagpole will be taken down and the base lifted up by means of a truck. The pole will be painted and placed on the new base.

The old base, which weighs about two tons, has cracked, due to poor construction. While there is no danger of the pole coming down because of the old base, it would cause it to rust.

Charles E. Merry, assistant to the comptroller, said that the work of removing the old base, painting the flagpole, and installing a new base would take about a week for completion.

Dr. Kotz Will Address Medical Group Meeting

Phi Lambda Kappa, medical fraternity, is planning a joint meeting of active and alumni at the Lafayette Hotel March 19, when Dr. Jacob Kotz, professor of obstetrics in the School of Medicine, will deliver a paper.

At the last meeting of the chapter, Dr. Benjamin P. Lasky, an alumnus of the chapter and now connected with the allergy clinic at the Children's Hospital, gave an informal talk on some practical hints to senior students on the practice of medicine.

Shawn Dancers Appear Monday

Ted Shawn and his men dancers will come to Washington Monday for a performance at Constitution Hall.

All the schools in or near Washington have groups of young men students actively promoting the affair, and the University chapter of Shawn's fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon, is planning to entertain the dancers and attend the concert en masse. Members of S.P.E. are conducting the sales campaign here.

Since starting his all-male dances three years ago, Shawn has received many requests from schools and colleges for appearance and instruction. It will be recalled that the late Knute Rockne first schooled all aspirants for his famous Notre Dame football squads in classic dances to give them poise, agility and endurance.

Banquet Marks Theta Tau's Birth

Gamma Beta chapter of Theta Tau, national professional engineering fraternity, will celebrate its second anniversary of installation with a banquet in Wesley Hall, Saturday at 7 p.m.

Dr. Allan Stockdale, retired Congregationalist minister and noted after dinner speaker, will be the guest of honor at the ceremonies which will be attended by the entire active and alumnae group of Theta Tau.

Ed Thomas, regent of the chapter, will be the master of ceremonies.

Symphony Club Meets April 1 in Columbian House

Tatyana Jansky, acting chairman of the Symphony Club, will conduct the first of a series of three programs April 1 in Columbian House.

Miss Jansky will talk on Mozart and will illustrate her subject with recordings. The program will be the first of a series planned to last out the semester. Though dates for the rest have not been set yet, they will be on Beethoven, and some modern composer, not yet chosen.

These plans were made at a meeting of the reorganized Symphony Club at which Milton Salkind played several piano selections. The meeting was well attended.

Troubadours

The following skeleton board, which was appointed by the remaining members of the 1935 Troubadours Board, is promoting reorganization with the committee on Forensics and Dramatics: Selby Davis, production; Ray Howard, business; Joe Rubenstein, staging; Betty Hartung and Mary Fulham, dance; Virginia Webb, costume; Theda Wonders and Frances Humphrey, publicity. The names of the above mentioned group will be submitted along with a revised constitution to the Student Life Committee when the organization seeks reorganization.

Helen Jepson tells why she chooses Luckies for her voice

LOVELY PRIMA DONNA OF METROPOLITAN OPERA SAYS:

"A season of opera and concert means my voice and throat must be consistently in perfect condition. Therefore, although most of my smoking is done while I am on vacation, it is all important to me that I be careful in choosing my cigarette. I smoke Luckies because I enjoy their taste and because I feel it is wiser for me to choose a light smoke for my voice."

Helen Jepson

THE FINEST TOBACCOS—THE CREAM OF THE CROP

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Jepson verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

EARLE

What happens when a wealthy young artist hires a night club star as a model is told in "Women of Glamour," the Columbia Picture which will bring Virginia Bruce and Melvyn Douglas to the Earle Theater screen on Friday, March 12. On the stage, Leon Navara and his orchestra and Georges and Janna, dance headliners, will share the honors.

Melvyn Douglas, who proved his flair for smart, sophisticated comedy in "Theodore Goes Wild," and "She Married Her Boss," plays the artist in "Women of Glamour," and Virginia Bruce, recently seen in "Born to Dance," is the night club blonde. They meet when Douglas, fed up with the sham and selfishness of his social set, runs away from a party given to unveil his latest canvas.

Ronald Denny, Thurston Hall and Pert Kelton are others in the cast and Gordon Wiles directed the production.

METROPOLITAN

John Littel, former leading man with the National Theater Players, has his biggest screen opportunity in "Midnight Court," the new Warner Bros. drama coming to the Metropolitan. He appears in night court as a petty offender when the film begins.

Ann Dvorak is an official stenographer in the court and she recognizes Littel, now an unkempt and drunken vagabond, as the man who was once a brilliant attorney and her husband. The theme of the picture is Littel's rehabilitation with Ann's aid, and his brilliant work in breaking up and convicting a gang of auto thieves who have been recruiting members from the discouraged young men caught up in night court.

Carlisle Moore, Jr., Gordon Elliot, Joseph C. Beatty, and Joan Woodberry are included in the cast of "Midnight Court," which was directed by Frank MacDon-

KEITH'S

Starting next Wednesday a show Washington will be delighted with. Radio Pictures brings Hollywood's latest importation, the continent's most famous star, Anton Walbrook, in "The Soldier and the Lady," from Jules Verne's "The Captain Corcoran." Radio Pictures cast, always outstanding for the best of screen productions, is unusually strong for fiction's great romantic hero. Names that unquestionably will rank this feature as one of the year's best include such known stars as Eric Blore, Elizabeth Allan, Margot Grahame, Newell, shorts and animated cartoons will augment this feature for the week. Don't miss "The Soldier and the Lady."

PALACE

Swinging merrily along to the tune of the best songs ever written by the greatest writer of songs in the world, "On the Avenue," opening Friday at Loew's Palace Theater, represents Irving Berlin at his melodious best, in a musical that is full of pep and lifting good spirits.

With Dick Powell and Madeleine Carroll making a new and romantic twosome of musical comedy, the lively Twentieth Century-Fox musical presents a real-life romance of New York in a show that's as big as the town. Alice Faye, The Ritz Brothers and George Barbier add both melody and mirth to the production.

Madeleine Carroll, noted hither-to for straight dramatic roles, makes a charming sweetheart for Dick Powell. Worthy of a separate note are the distinctive and lovely melodies Irving Berlin composed for the film "This Year's Kisses." "You're Laughing at Me," "Slumming on Park Avenue," "I've Got My Love to Keep Me Warm," "The Girl on the Police Gazette," and a novelty number written for the Ritz Brothers, called "He Ain't Got Rhythm."

CAPITOL

The strange spectacle of a prisoner playing alternate engagements in two jails, one real and the other cinematic, was afforded by Enzo Costello, a Hollywood extra player who has a "bit" in the Twentieth Century-Fox production, "Nancy Steel Is Missing," opening Friday at Loew's Capitol. "Red" Skelton will be held over as master of ceremonies.

Another all-star stage revue. During production of the film, which stars Victor McLaglen, Walter Connolly and Peter Lorre, Costello was sentenced to ten days in jail on a traffic violation charge. When he pleaded that said would mean the loss of his job, the judge asked if he could serve his sentence at night and work in the daytime.

The extra called McLaglen, who testified that Costello was working in "Nancy Steel Is Missing," and the judge agreed to the two-way arrangement. In the picture, Costello plays a convict and must spend all his time at the studio in a cell. Application to have this time credited to the real sentence was refused.

Rifle Team Cops Carnegie Tourney

Coach Frank Parsons' Lads Barely Eke Out Victory in Match With National Intercollegiate Rifle
Champions at Pittsburgh

THE varsity rifle team won the annual Carnegie Tech Invitational Tournament, held at Pittsburgh, Saturday afternoon, defeating Carnegie Tech, last year's National Rifleman Association Intercollegiate champions, by a slender margin of 1368-1361. Five teams participated with Ohio State placing third with 1345; Philadelphia Navy Yard Marine Corps fourth with 1330; and Slippery Rock Teachers College fifth with 1251.

Dana Wallace led the Colonials with 279 and Scherba and Ryshaneke were high for Carnegie Tech with 278 each. Tracy Mulligan shot a perfect 100 score from prone position while four of the Carnegie sharpshooters were doing the same. The matches were fired under rigid conditions comparable to those under which the N. R. A. Intercollegiate tournament is held, with very little time allowed for each position. The Buff riflers are preparing for the annual N. R. A. Intercollegiate Tournament at Annapolis on March 20. Last year the team, under the direction of Coach Frank Parsons, finished fourth among the college teams.

Ten Faces Busy Week

The team is facing a busy week with a shoulder-to-shoulder match scheduled with Georgetown for next Friday night on the Buff range, and another one here Saturday afternoon with the Philadelphia Navy Yard Marine Corps team. The Marine Barracks Rifle Team have been invited to compete with a good possibility of their accepting. In addition, Coach Parsons is trying to make it a four-team match with the possible addition of the strong D. C. National Guard team.

The official results of the recent match with Virginia Military Institute were 1368-1326 in favor of the Colonials. Dana Wallace led with 266 while Love was high for V. M. I. with 270. Tracy Mulligan got another perfect score at prone, as also did Muller of V. M. I.

The Buff riflers shot an unofficial total of 1360 in their telegraphic match with the U. of Fla. last Wednesday night.

The individual results of the Carnegie Tech match follow:

Capt. Hal Kiesel Captures '37 Varsity Scoring Crown

CAPTAIN HAL KIESEL, one of the greatest centers ever to play here, has been crowned high scorer of the 1937 edition of the Buff & Blue quintet. Hal scoring two more points in the last two games than did his rival for the crown, Tommy O'Brien, brought his season total to 156 and his three-year record to a grand total of 495 points. Hal's record is the second best ever made here, being surpassed only by the 544 points of Forrest Burgess, who finished his reign in 1934. The previous second high scorer for the University was held by Jimmy Howell, who had a mark of 494. Kiesel's points, by the way, came from 50 field goals and 56 charity markers.

Captain Kiesel's record breaking score came in small quantities during the past week, Hal being held to three foul shots against the Long Island Blackbirds and scoring only one foul shot against Villanova on Saturday night.

Tommy O'Brien gave Hal a close race for top honors, winding up the year with a total of 154. Could Have Tied Tommy O'Brien could have tied Kiesel for the year's scoring crown by scoring one more field goal during the last week, as he had a total of 154 points, being made up of 65 field goals and 26 foul shots. Had O'Brien played more than a few minutes in the season's finale, the story might have been different, but that was the game when the seniors held sway and O'Brien, being a junior, was rather left out of things.

Ben Goldfaden, another senior who has played his last game for the Buff quint, wound up the season with 126 points, and a three-year record of 457 markers. This season's 126 points were made up of 50 field goals and 26 foul shots. Both Goldfaden and Kiesel have been regulars throughout their careers as basketball players here, both playing in all 56 of the games that the University has played while they were here.

Schonfeld Finishes Fourth Mickey Schonfeld, another regular who has scored his last basket for the Buff, finished the season

Acacia Ties S.P.E.; P.S.K. Top Pongers

Delts Hand Acacia Tie in League A; Phi Sigs
Win Title

FAILURE of the Delta Tau Delta ping pongers to present a full team left League A in a tentative tie with the final winner to be determined by the Interfraternity Council at a meeting tonight. If Acacia's claims for forfeiture are sustained, they will meet S.P.E. in a play-off Sunday for League A's title.

If S. P. E. is declared the winner, their team will meet the Phi Sigs Sunday for the championship. Phi Sigma Kappa clinched the league B title in the first set of their match with Sigma Chi, and subsequently took the remaining four sets for a sweep of the match, giving them the best record in interfraternity ping pong circles. The Phi Sigs have won a total of 23 sets while losing two, the last 22 of the sets being in order. The team played K. A. in the first round, losing two of the sets, and since that match the Phi Sigs have lost only one individual game, that last week to Kappa Sigma.

Acacia's Disappointed Acacia, in third place last week, trailing Sigma Nu and T. U. O., was out in full force Sunday night, eager for the chance to win tie for the league A title. When only three members of the Delts team put in their appearance, the representatives of the two teams conferred and then announced that the Delts would forfeit the match, but in view of the large crowd present decided to play the three matches informally anyhow. The Acacia lost one of the three matches played, and had this been an official contest, it would have knocked them out of the tie.

S. P. E. went out for the title with a will to win, and took four out of five sets from S. N. At the end of play a week ago, S. N. and S. P. E. were tie for the lead with Acacia only one jump behind. The play-off of the tie will probably take place some time this week, as the finals are scheduled for next Sunday.

S. A. E. Ties for Third

S. A. E. gained a tie for third place in the league standings by taking T. D. X. over the tables for five straight, to round out the games. As a result of the defeat, fourth in the high-scoring standings with a total of 109 points, having dropped 47 baskets from the floor, and converting 15 gift shots. Milt scored 252 points in the 50 games he played here.

Jack Butterworth, center-forward, rounds out the first team.

Complete season's tabulations are as follows:

Player	G	FG	Total
Kiesel	50	56	156
O'Brien	50	26	154
Goldfaden	50	26	126
Schonfeld	47	15	109

Berg	17	2	36
Osborne	6	1	13
Borum	4	3	11
Silkowitz	3	4	10
Bakum	2	6	10

Faris Tops Reserves Bob Faris is tops among the reserves, having a total of 59 points. The ingredients are 25 field goals and nine foul shots. Moe Berg, another of the members of the team graduating in June, finishes the season with 36 points, two of them from foul shots and the rest as a result of 17 field goals.

Complete season's tabulations are as follows:

Hanken Boosted for Classic Students Urged to Vote in Hatchet Campaign to Name Ray as All-Star

By Howard Mace

RAY HANKEN, elected most valuable football player for the 1936 season, has been chosen by The Hatchet sports staff, upon the suggestion of Sid Carroll, former sports editor, as Washington's representative in the annual All-Star football game next fall. We, of the sports staff, are convinced in Carroll's opinion that if the student body would really get behind Ray and push for his cause, he would undoubtedly get sufficient start to give him the required number of votes to put him on the All-Star eleven.

Sid Carroll, former sports editor of The Hatchet, expresses the idea so aptly that we are presenting it to you verbatim. His letter to Howard Mace, sports editor, is as follows:

Dear Howard: As you already know, this week one of the best and to play for G. W. was voted the "most valuable" football player on the 1936 team. Ray Hanken was the honored player and rightly so. Without belittling the play of any of the others that went to make up the best team to show here in several seasons, I am a sports fan and I am sure that Ray stood head and shoulders above the remainder of the players. Ray proved a thorn in the side of every team he came up against and if you don't think he'll be missed next year just ask Jim Pixley, Bill Reinhardt or Botchey Koch. They'll tell you.

Ray was a great offensive player, but in my opinion it was on the defense that he really started. When Ray was on the defense and a play came his way the situation was reversed from the usual procedure. When he bore down on the opposing blockers and ball carriers, they were really on the defense—not Ray—for he really tore in and stopped them in their tracks.

Well, to get to the point of all this, there's going to be an All-Star collegiate eleven selected by the vote of the people this summer which will meet the country's champion pro eleven in a game next September. Last year Tuffy Leemans represented G. W. This year it should be Ray Hanken. My suggestion is this: Place a one column box on the sports page of The Hatchet saying in so many words I want to vote for Ray Hanken to participate in the All-Star game next September. Have the students sign these small slips and drop them off at The Hatchet office. When Vincent Flaherty of The Herald returns to Washington, we'll drop a basketful of names in his lap and maybe he'll make up to the idea that we want to see Hanken in that game next fall and will give the same support he gave Leemans.

Hanken may not get as many votes as Kelly or Tinsley but once he qualifies for the squad and gets out on the practice field you can leave it to him to do the rest.

What do you say, student body? Let's back him to the limit! Here's my vote!

Okay, Hank, we'll be watching for you in the big game!

Hoping for the best,

In line with Sid Carroll's suggestion, we are printing a ballot in this week's issue, and requesting that every student clip it out and deposit it at The Hatchet office. Additional boxes will be placed at convenient spots about the campus in the near future.

Terp Intramural Winners Challenge Lawyers 'A' Five

Maryland University's intramural champs have issued a challenge for a return game with the Law School "A" five, local intramural league winners, according to an announcement from Max Farrington, graduate manager of athletics.

The game, a return engagement with the Terp five, will be played at the "Tin Tabernacle" on Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. and will afford the Lawyers an opportunity to avenge a one-point loss in an overtime fracas at the Maryland school. Admission to the game will be free.

Silkowitz In Hospital Sidney Silkowitz, varsity basketball player, whose absence was apparent at the final game of the season with Villanova, was admitted to the University Hospital on Thursday for treatment. Although the exact nature of his illness has not been determined, it is believed that Silkowitz is suffering from a kidney ailment.

I want to place my vote for Ray Hanken in the All-Star game to be played this September.

Buff Seniors Win Over Villanova

Berg and Schonfeld Star for Colonials in Their Last Game

TO the tune of "Auld Lang Syne" and a roaring ovation, the proportions of which have seldom been experienced here, five varsity seniors bowed out of the scene with a decisive victory over the Villanova basketball team Saturday night at Tech High, 29-17.

Villanova came with one of their best seasons in years, boasting victories over Westminster, C.C.N.Y., Temple, and others. The Wildcats far from lived up to their record, playing sloppy basketball throughout, proving excellent material for the five departing seniors to leave with a flourish.

Led by the scarce-manned Berg, the Buff and Blue romped to an easy victory over the visitors. Following Kiesel and Schonfeld, Bakum weaved his way through the Wildcats and sank a spectacular snowbird to let the Buff take the lead which it never lost.

At the half, the score stood 15-7 in favor of the home lads and 29-17 at the end of the game.

Starting somewhat raggedly, Coach Reinhardt's boys soon began hitting on all six. Kiesel consistently winning the tap-off, Schonfeld never dribbled and fed with such amazing speed and accuracy, but good old "Moe" Berg was the shining light of the battle. He played one of his best games, literally taking the ball away from the Villanovans time and time again plus shooting head and shoulders above the rest with 11 points. Schonfeld was second with seven.

The boys have completed a highly gratifying season, tying the all-time record for wins recorded by a Colonial team. Among the victims were scored Nebraska, St. Johns of Brooklyn, Villanova, Wake Forest, Geneva, Westminster, West Point, and West Virginia. The Buff lost to Long Island University twice, and once each to Loyola and Westminster, all by hairbreadth margins. The team averaged over 40 points per game for the season.

Hill, T. U. O., Wins Frat Sweeps

THE fourth annual Interfraternity Bowling Sweepstakes, sponsored by Gate & Key, was won by John Hill of Theta Upsilon Omega at the Rendezvous Bowling Alleys Saturday night. Last year's defending champion, Everett Woodward of Delta Tau Delta was runner-up.

This event was sponsored by Gate and Key and a cup scored by the winner, presented by Al Heikel, who was in charge of the sweepstakes.

Hill showed his championship caliber by rolling consistent games of 123, 112 and 114, for a 349 set. In his three games he marked for nine spares and one strike, averaging one mark for every three boxes. Going into the final game Hill had a lead of two pins over Woodward and was nine pins up on Clem Zimney of P. S. K., but he sewed up the sweeps with a 114 game while his other two closest competitors failed to roll over the century mark. Woodward shared honors with a high individual game of 135.

Woodward's defense tightened up considerably, but not enough. It should be mentioned that "Jake" Goldfaden played his best game of the season. Taking Butterworth's place against Torgoff, he effectively kept Ivan to two field goals and tied the flashy Blackbirds for the top scoring honors by sinking eleven points. Missing repeated attempts at the invader's basket, the Colonials did manage to pull within three points of Clair Bee's team, but Ken Norton's two foul shots gave the New Yorkers 28 and the score was 28-24 when the final whistle blew.

Silkowitz In Hospital Sidney Silkowitz, varsity basketball player, whose absence was apparent at the final game of the season with Villanova, was admitted to the University Hospital on Thursday for treatment. Although the exact nature of his illness has not been determined, it is believed that Silkowitz is suffering from a kidney ailment.

Frosh Quintet Wins 4 Tilts Loses 1

F. B. I. Team Hand Yearlings
Second Defeat of Season

OVER the previous week the Colonial Frosh won four and lost one, bringing the season's record up to 18 wins and 2 losses. Washington-Lee, Y. M. C. A., Silver Spring Merchants, and G. W. High were the victims of the freshmen onslaughts.

Saturday night, however, brought the second loss of the year. The Freshmen were handed a terrific lacing at the hands of the F. B. I., losing by the count of 35 to 16.

The loss to the "G-Men" of the F. B. I. was no reflection on the Freshmen. The Sleuths were composed of all former college players, of whom Forrest Burgess, G. W. captain in '35, and possessor of the school's all-time scoring record, was only a substitute. In the face of this type of opposition, it was no disgrace to the Freshmen to lose the game, 35 to 16.

Losses Not Similar There was no similarity between this setback and the only other loss to the Maryland Frosh, which was merely the result of a periodical let-down, which let up too late in the game. This game, to the contrary, was hard fought on both sides, and the loss was only to superior opponents. The outcome leaves two questions, however, how did the Frosh win over the F. B. I. earlier in the season?—and who will win in the A. A. U. Tournament?

The Washington and Lee game resulted in almost the identical score of the game played at Tech earlier in the season. Though the Generals are a powerful High School team, they were completely outclassed to the tune of 47 to 25. The score of the earlier game was 48 to 26.

"Y" Again Topped The "Y," which had given the Frosh a terrific battle on its home floor, losing by but one point, was again defeated, this time by a larger margin, 41-25. It was an unusually rough game, several fights and a lot of unpleasantness resulting from the tension between the two teams. Meyer Aronson was tops again in scoring with 14 points.

The Freshmen went to town against the Silver Spring Merchants in the first game of the A. A. U. tournament. The short floor of the Heurich gym was a great advantage to the Freshmen, as their opponents, though supposedly an excellent team, were unusually poor shots. The Frosh collected 31 points during the first half, against their opponents' four, and began the second with the admonition of Coach Zahn to take it easy and not run into any walls. With all the reserves having a grand time, the score was gradually worked up to a final count of 43-19.

The fourth game in a tough week's schedule was played in Alexandria, against the George Washington High School, on Friday night. Though the Frosh were a bit downward at the outset, mainly because of the presence of the same referee who officiated at the Maryland game, and so far as to make gloomy predictions, they quickly ran up a lead of 6-0, and won the game with ease.

Riding Club Meets The beginners' class of the Riding Club will meet Saturday at the north end of the East-West highway for instructions, to be given by Capt. E. A. Kane.

Contest Open For Rhodes' Scholarships

Unmarried Juniors, Seniors Have Chance for 2 Years at Oxford

Rhodes Scholarship competitions are now open in all of the universities and colleges throughout the country, it was announced last week by Dean Henry Gratton Doyle.

In order to be eligible, the candidate must be:

(1) A male citizen of the United States, unmarried, and with at least five years' residence in this country.

(2) An applicant must be between the age of 19 and 25 in the year and on the date that he is elected.

(3) At the time of the application the candidate must have at least a junior standing at some recognized degree-granting university or college in the United States of America.

Candidates may apply from their home state or from the state in which they have received at least two years' college training. The student must obtain a written endorsement from the head of the college or university that he is suitable for application for a Rhodes Scholarship. There is no quota for each university or college.

The competition for Rhodes Scholarships is organized by states and districts. There are eight districts of six states each. Each state committee may nominate two candidates to appear before the district committee and from the 12 men appearing before it the district committee may select four to represent the district at Oxford.

In addition to the above qualifications, a Rhodes Scholar must measure up to the standards quoted in another section of the Rhodes will:

(1) "Literary and scholastic ability and attainments."

(2) "Qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness and fellowship."

(3) "Exhibition of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates."

(4) "Physical vigor, as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways."

Scholarship appointments are usually made for two years, but the student may be awarded a third year if he presents a definite plan of study satisfactory to both his college and the Rhodes trustees.

The amount of the scholarship is about $2,000 in American money per year, and if possible the scholar should supplement this by at least $250 per year from his own resources.

Rhodes scholars are subject to no restrictions as to the choice of their courses, but may choose any field that they desire.

Anyone who desires additional information may obtain it from the office of Dean Henry Gratton Doyle, C-102.

Chapel Topic Will Be Easter

Seeger Will Discuss Present Day Significance of Holiday

"The Present-Day Significance of Easter" will be the topic for discussion in chapel Friday, Corcoran 10, at 12:10 p.m. Prof. Raymond J. Seeger will be the speaker.

"A very remarkable preacher, his eloquence appealing to heart and head, a man with a wonderful mind, and so gifted a teacher that everybody connected with him loved him," was the characterization of Dr. William Staughton, first president of Columbian College, given by Dr. William Allen Wilbur, professor emeritus of English in chapel last Friday.

Staughton was a youth of exceptional ability. When he was only 16, his friends in England, where he was born, published a book of his juvenile poems. At 23, he was licensed to preach in the Baptist ministry. Shortly after this Dr. Furman, of Charleston, S. C., asked for someone to fill the pulpit in Georgetown, S. C. "When the letter was read," said Dr. Wilbur, "the board with one voice exclaimed, 'Staughton is the man!'"

After a year and a half in South Carolina, Staughton found slavery too repugnant to remain there, and he went to New Jersey. Graduates of his preparatory school there so distinguished themselves at Princeton that the university awarded him the degree of Doctor of Divinity, even though Princeton was a Presbyterian college and Staughton was a Baptist.

Traffic Safety Lessons Begin

Teacher-Training Course Here Will Last Through the Week

An intensive teacher-training course in traffic safety education was begun yesterday by the American Automobile Association in cooperation with the school of Education of the University.

The course, which will continue through Saturday, is planned for those interested in teaching traffic safety and driving. This subject is now being introduced as an accredited course in the high schools of the District and many other cities.

The course is being taught by Dr. F. R. Noffsinger and Prof. Amos E. Neyhart. Dr. Noffsinger is a well-known educator and recently came to Washington from Indiana University, where he was professor of education. He is now engaged in the promotion of this type of education throughout the United States. Prof. Neyhart has received nationwide recognition for his work in the driver training field and has been on the faculty of a number of universities, conducting similar training courses.

The group is attending lectures in which the use of sound films, slides, testing devices, charts and graphs are taught. In addition, each person registered will receive two hours of instruction in the operation of especially constructed dual control cars. A certificate will be issued upon successful completion of the course.
